

Have some empty toilet rolls laying around? They make great dinosaur legs!

Collect some craft supplies from around the house. Some possible items include paper plates, pom poms, craft foam, markers, pipecleaners, construction paper, coffee filters and cupcake liners.

You can cut out your own dinosaur shapes or use the templates included on page 2.

When your dinosaur body is ready, use toilet rolls to make legs. Use a full roll for the powerful T-rex back legs or cut the roll in 2 pieces to make a shorter plant-eater's leg. Cut 2 slits in the top edge of the toilet paper roll to attach it to your dinosaur body.

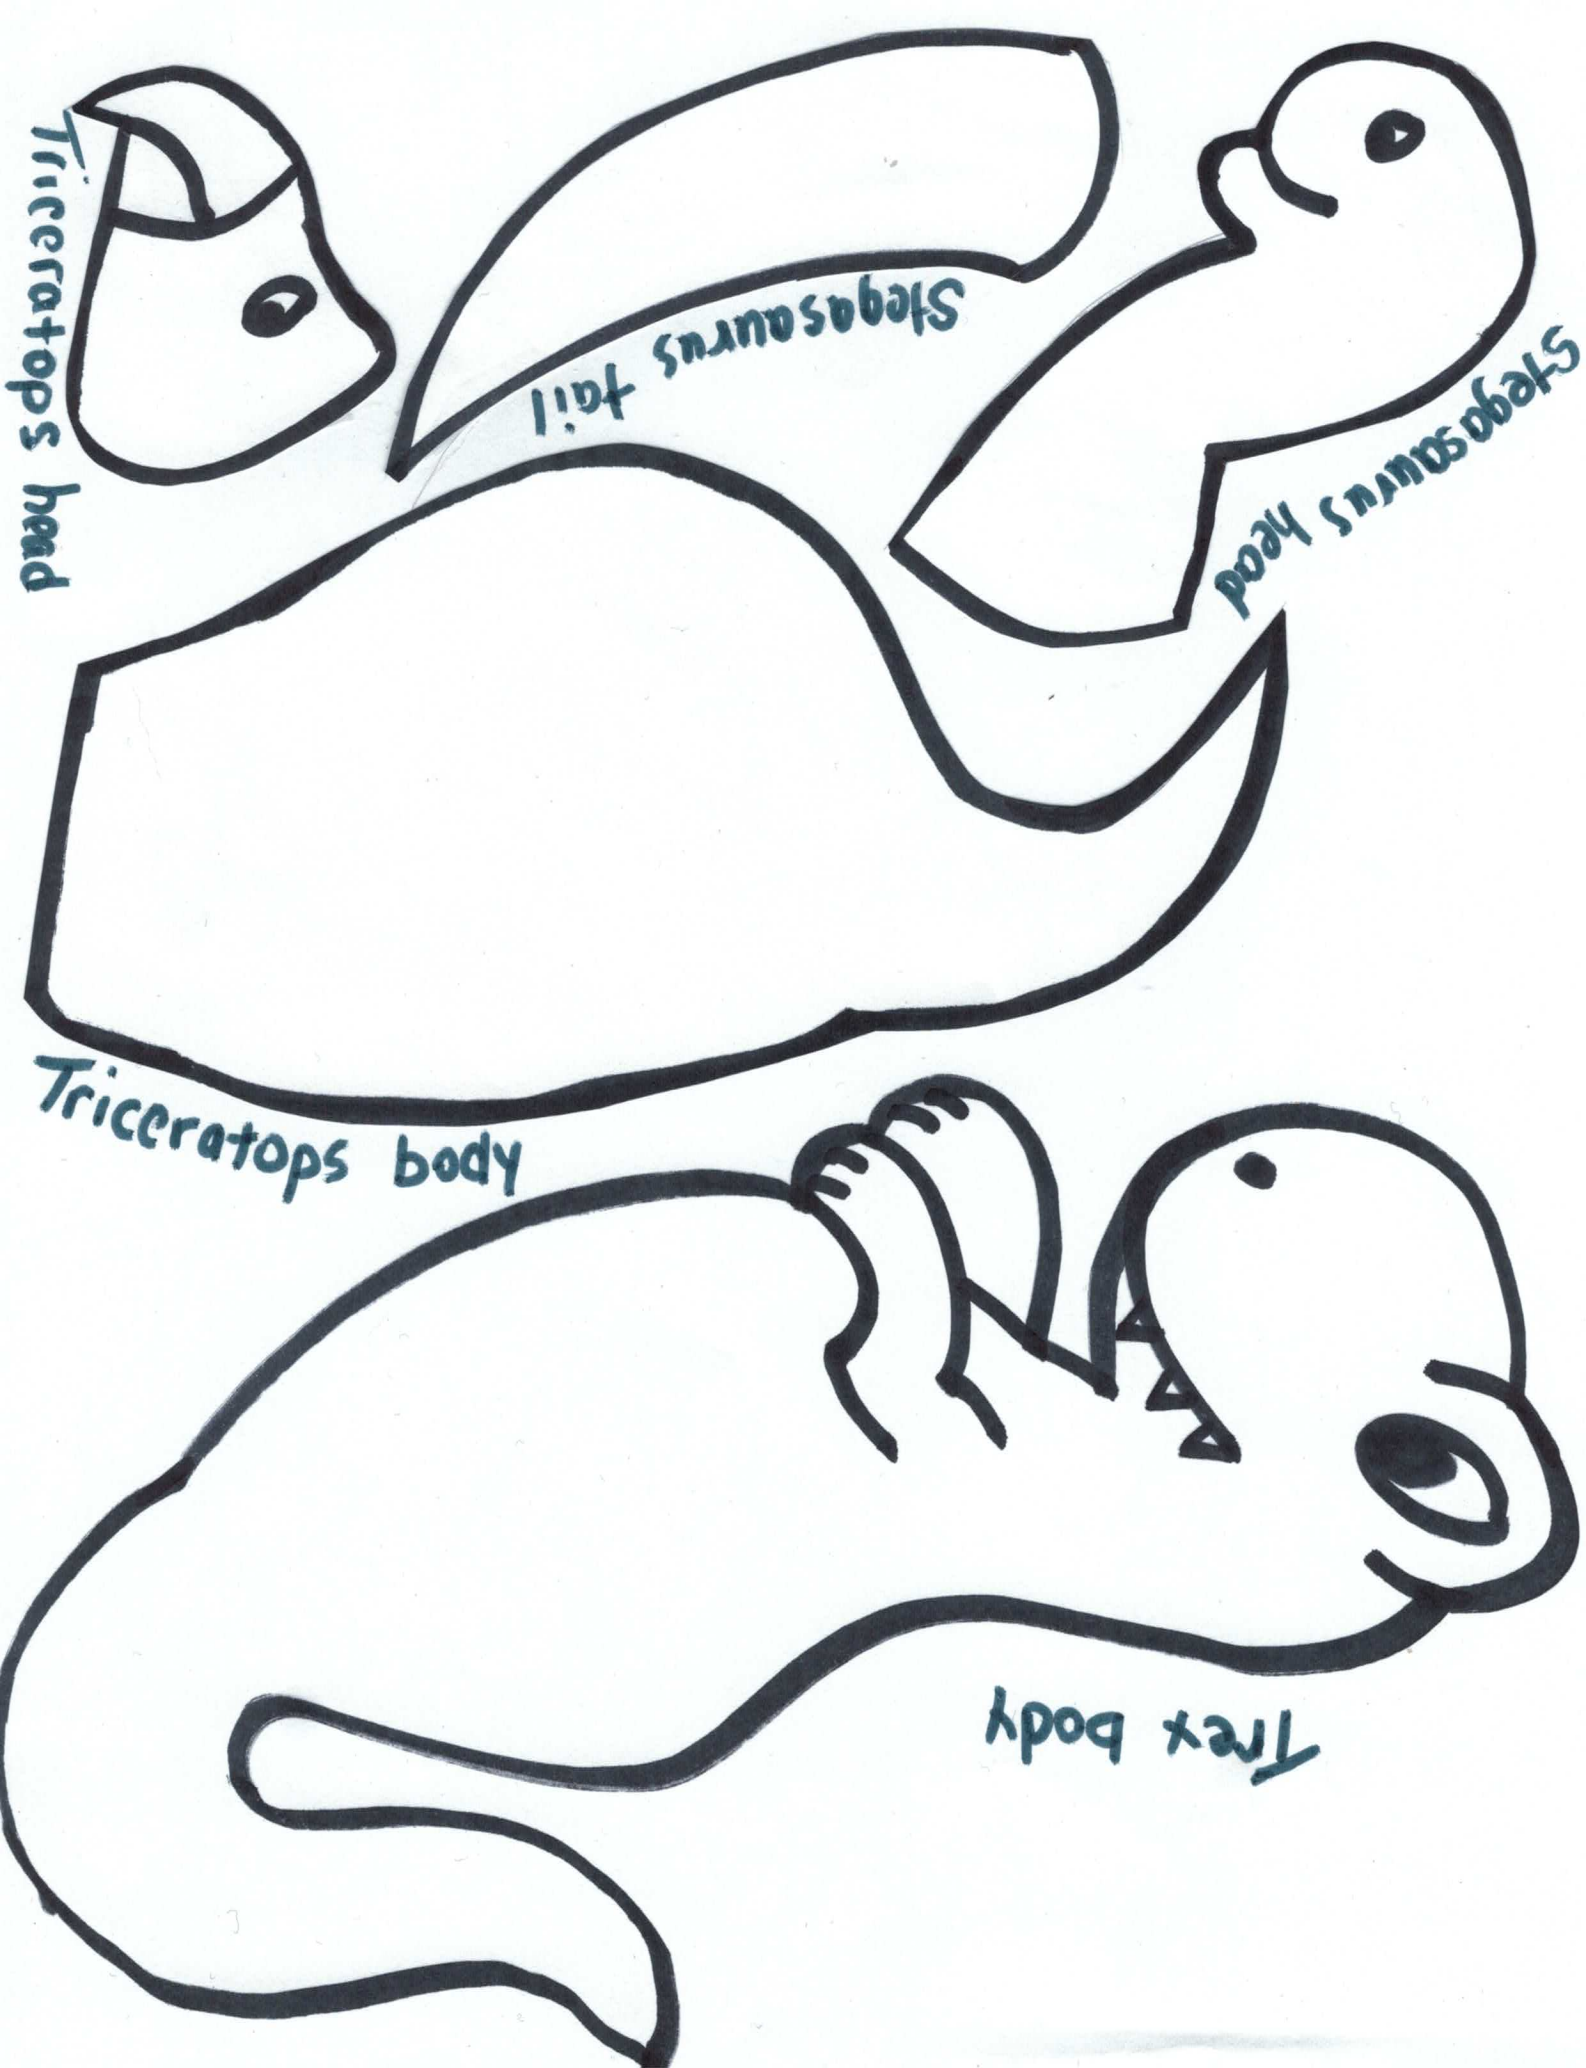

Make a few different dinosaurs and have fun playing with them!

Make a Triceratops frill using a folded cupcake liner. His horns can be made from a pipe cleaner.

Cut a paper plate in half. Cut out a head and tail, and 5 spikes. Glue or tape them in between the paper plates. Then decorate and add toilet roll legs!

Triceratops head

Stegasaurus tail

Stegasaurus head

Triceratops body

Trex body